Getting Started
Once in the app, scroll through the "Get Started" screen and log-in by connecting to your LinkedIn or Facebook account. If you don't have a profile on one of these sites, contact Norah Scanlan at nscanlan@innocencenetwork.org, and she'll assign you a unique log-in. After you're logged in, enter the code INC2017 to access the Innocence Network Conference.

If you are using an iOS device (an iPhone, iPad, etc.): Click on "More" at the bottom of the app, then "Join Event," then the "+" sign in the bottom right corner, and then "enter code."

If you are using an Android device: Click on the three horizontal lines in the top left corner, then "Join Event," then the "+" sign in the bottom right corner, and then "enter code."

Features
The app includes the full conference schedule, information on speakers, and provides networking and communication opportunities with other attendees through "Live Chat." In addition to the "Live Chat" feature, under "Activity Stream," you can upload images with descriptions from the conference to a public feed on the app.

To help you navigate the conference, use the app to favorite the sessions you are interested attending. To favorite or add a session to your calendar, use the "Schedule" menu item to select a session and click "add to favorites" or "add to calendar" at the bottom of the session page. You can also take notes in the "Private Notes" menu item, and view the hotel map through that menu item. You can view the Network Award Winners and Conference Speakers by clicking on the corresponding tabs.

To buy tickets for the closing party on Saturday night at the Stone Brewing World Bistro & Gardens at Liberty Station featuring the exoneree band and the XONR8RS from the California Innocence Project, and for information about the buses to and from the venue, click on the "Closing Party" menu item.

If you use Twitter, you can also connect your Twitter account to Topi and tweet directly from the app using the conference hashtag, #INConf2017. Topi also aggregates all of the Tweets using the #INConf2017 hashtag, which you will find under the "Twitter" menu on the app.

FAQ

I'm registered for the event, so why can't I log on to Topi with the "I have a login" button?
That's an option reserved for people who don't have a LinkedIn or Facebook account. If you don't have either one, contact Norah Scanlan at nscanlan@innocencenetwork.org, and she'll assign you a unique log-in. We suggest that if you do have LinkedIn or Facebook that you use it to connect to Topi, though, as it is easier to network with other attendees.

Can I add sessions to my phone's calendar?
Yes. After you select a session on the agenda, click "add to calendar."

How do I find people I should meet?
Under the "Networking" menu on your home screen, you'll see all participants at the event who have opted-in to Topi. You can request connections and start conversations with those people. Click on the icon next to their name and then click on the "+" sign on the lower right corner to add them to your contacts. They will then receive a notification letting them know that you've invited them to connect. Once they accept, they will be added to your contacts, and you can message them.

Will I be able to communicate with people who have been added to my Topi contacts list after the conference?
Yes. You will still be able to message them through Topi, and you'll still be able to see your previous private conversations.

I met someone who I think another friend should meet. Can I add them to our chat?
Yes. In the top of the chat, click the "+" sign to add another person from your Topi contacts into the conversation.
